Dear Graduate Students,

Three important notices:

1. If you are considering research or study in Germany, please see the information below on the DAAD (a UA internal deadline is just around the corner!)
2. If you are finishing your dissertation, see the information below on the Marshal Foundation Dissertation fellowship.
3. If you are applying for the NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Program and have not signed up for application support, do so here: https://grad.arizona.edu/ofce/nsf-graduate-research-fellowship-support-program-registration.

Those are my top three bits of information, but there is more below – from a Tucson Mural Arts opportunity to fellowships from IBM and much more in between. Please take a look!

General Fellowship Opportunities

American Dissertation Fellowships – American Association of University Women (AAUW)
The purpose of the Dissertation Fellowship is to offset a scholar's living expenses while she completes her dissertation. The fellowship must be used for the final year of writing the dissertation. Funds may not be used for extended field research. American Fellowships are open to scholars in all fields of study. Dissertation Fellowships carry a stipend of $20,000 for the fellowship year.
Citizenship: U.S. citizen or permanent resident (as of November 15, 2015)
Deadline: November 15, 2015

American-Scandinavian Foundation Fellowships and Grants
The American-Scandinavian Foundation (ASF) offers fellowships (up to $23,000) and grants (up to $5,000) to individuals to pursue research, study or creative arts projects in one or more Scandinavian country for up to one year. The number of awards varies each year according to total funds available. Awards are made in all fields.
Citizenship: U.S. Citizens or permanent residents
Deadline: November 1, 2015

DAAD – German Academic Exchange Service
DAAD Fellowships provide support for study in Germany. The University of Arizona facilitates the selection of a priority candidate. To be considered, please follow the directions below. The following opportunities through DAAD are generally most relevant for graduate students:
Study Scholarships: “Study Scholarships provide highly qualified individuals with an opportunity to do independent study in Germany or to complete a full Master's degree program at a German university.” These are available in the sciences, humanities, and arts.
Research grants: “Research Grants are awarded primarily to highly qualified PhD candidates who are early in their academic/professional careers or to individuals wishing to earn a doctoral degree in Germany. Funding may also be granted to recent PhDs who would like to conduct research.” DAAD has both long-term and short-term research grants.
As a partner university, DAAD encourages the UA to select one priority candidate. Priority candidates from partner universities receive preferential status in the general fellowship competitions and have a considerably higher likelihood of being selected.

Deadline: Applicants for the 2016 UA priority candidate must submit their applications to the UA Graduate College on or before October 15, 2015 at 8:00 PM.

IDEA WILD Conservation Research Equipment Grants

IDEA WILD seeks to minimize the loss of biodiversity by empowering people on the front lines of conservation by awarding small equipment grants to conservation professionals around the world. These equipment grants advance biological research, conservation education, community outreach, conservation management, field training, and professional development in areas where it is needed most. By empowering both aspiring and veteran conservation professionals, IDEA WILD has been instrumental in establishing new protected areas, reversing the decline of species through innovative management plans, restoring damaged and critical habitat, and improving how local communities support and sustain their immediate natural resources. Each year, IDEA WILD distributes over $300,000 worth of equipment – including digital cameras, spotting scopes, mist nets, tents, binoculars, and GPS units – to over 400 conservation projects worldwide.

Society for Mining, Metallurgy, & Exploration Scholarships
Each year the Society for Mining, Metallurgy and Exploration (SME) and the SME Foundation offer multiple scholarships to SME student members who demonstrate a desire for and probability of success in a career in the minerals industry. A list of available scholarships is provided below Deadline: see website Website: http://www.smenet.org/scholarships/

Postdoctoral Opportunities

Earth Institute Postdoctoral Fellowship Program, Columbia University
The EI Fellows program provides innovative postdoctoral scholars with the opportunity to build a foundation in one of the core disciplines represented within the Earth Institute (i.e. social, earth, biological, engineering, and health sciences), while at the same time acquiring the breadth of cross-disciplinary expertise needed to address critical issues related to sustainable development. Specific areas of research include food security, energy systems, climate change impacts, poverty reduction, disease, and environmental degradation. The program offers a unique intellectual surrounding that fosters cross-disciplinary interaction, research and education. Citizenship: Unrestricted Deadline: October 30, 2015 Website: http://www.earth.columbia.edu/articles/view/56

Faculty for the Future Fellowships
Faculty for the Future fellowships are awarded to women from developing and emerging economies who are preparing for PhD or post-doctoral study in the physical sciences and related disciplines at top universities for their disciplines abroad. The long-term goal of the Faculty for the Future program is to generate conditions that result in more women pursuing scientific disciplines. Grant recipients are therefore selected as much for their leadership capabilities as for their scientific talents, and they are expected to return to their home countries to continue their academic careers and inspire other young women. Citizenship: Citizen of a developing country or country with an emerging economy (see website for list) Deadline: November 13, 2015 Website: http://www.facultyforthefuture.net/

Lawrence Postdoctoral Fellowship at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, U.S. Department of Energy
The Lawrence Fellowship is a highly-competitive postdoctoral position at LLNL that is open to all technical disciplines. Fellowships are awarded to candidates with exceptional talent, scientific track records, and potential for significant achievements. Typically, two to four fellowships are awarded each year, and the awards are for three years. Fellows are free to pursue their own research agenda under the guidance of a senior staff scientist who serves as a mentor. The fellows most often conduct their research in a collaborative, multidisciplinary manner with others in a team environment.

Applicants must either be in the process of completing their Ph.D. (within one year and employment may not start until Ph.D. requirements have been verified), or have received their Ph.D. degree within five years of being hired as a Lawrence Fellow.

Citizenship: Unrestricted
Deadline: November 1

Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowships, Society for the Humanities, Cornell University

The Society for the Humanities will sponsor two postdoctoral teaching-research fellowships in the humanities, each awarded for the two-year period beginning July 2016. Each fellowship offers a stipend of $45,000/year. While in residence at Cornell, Mellon Fellows hold department affiliations and joint appointments with the Society for the Humanities, have limited teaching duties, and the opportunity for scholarly work. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowships are available in two areas of specialization: German Studies and Near Eastern Studies.

Citizenship: Unrestricted
Deadline: November 15

University of California President’s Postdoctoral Program

The University of California President’s Postdoctoral Fellowship Program was established in 1984 to encourage outstanding women and minority Ph.D. recipients to pursue academic careers at the University of California. The current program offers postdoctoral research fellowships, professional development and faculty mentoring to outstanding scholars in all fields whose research, teaching, and service will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity at UC.

Citizenship: U.S. citizens or permanent residents and must hold or receive a Ph.D. from an accredited university
Deadline: November 1
Website: http://ppfp.ucop.edu/info/

University of Michigan Partnerships for Faculty Diversity

The University of Michigan offers postdoctoral research fellowships in science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM), economics, and political science fields, coupled with faculty mentoring, professional development and academic networking opportunities. The University of Michigan views these postdoctoral fellowships as providing an exceptional opportunity to recruit potential new faculty to the University by offering the possibility of either a postdoc alone or a combined postdoc and tenure track faculty appointment. The University seeks applicants whose research, teaching and service will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. The program is particularly interested in scholars with the potential to bring to their academic careers the critical perspective that comes from their non-traditional educational background or understanding of the experiences of groups historically underrepresented in higher education.
Citizenship: U.S. citizens or permanent residents and must hold or receive a Ph.D. from an accredited university
Deadline: November 1
