Dear Graduate Students,

There are so many opportunities open right now. It was hard to select which opportunities to include in the newsletter but we aim to include opportunities for all graduate students at the UA.

- Does your research or work pertain to the environment? Check out the Carson Scholarship.
- Are you from China and looking for funding for your dissertation related to Chinese culture or society? Look below.
- Does your research have to do with transportation and communities? More information below.

Keep reading for many more graduate funding opportunities. If you don’t see anything below to which you can apply, we recommend that you set up your own funding alert. Thanks for reading.

Shelley

POSTDOCTORAL OPPORTUNITIES

Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Curatorial Fellowship

This two-year fellowship at The Met provides curatorial training and an opportunity for the fellow to engage with a community of scholars from around the world. The fellow is fully integrated into one of the Museum's curatorial departments, while devoting his or her time to a specific Met project. The individual works directly with one or more curators, who serve as supervisors and mentors throughout the term of the fellowship. The fellow also has the opportunity to undertake an independent project in consultation with his or her supervising curator. Through weekly gatherings and discussions, the fellow takes part in research-sharing and workshops that expand dialogue and foster a community of intellectual engagement.

- Citizenship: Unspecified

CDC HIV Prevention in Communities of Color Postdoctoral Fellowship Program

The mission of this fellowship program is to recruit, mentor, and train participants to conduct domestic HIV and AIDS prevention research in communities of color. The fellows will be located in the Division of HIV/AIDS Prevention (DHAP) at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), headquartered in Atlanta, GA. Mentors and participants will collaborate to develop a list of diverse research activities that they will complete together over the two year (subject to funding) training period. These activities will be based on the participant’s area(s) of interest, training, and expertise and the mission of the program. Applicants must have a doctoral degree (PhD, ScD, DrPH) in the behavioral sciences, social sciences, epidemiology, public health, or MD plus MPH
(or expect their degree by December 31, 2019). Applicants with documented research expertise or experience in communities of color (African Americans, Latinos/Hispanics, American Indian/Native Americans, Asian/Pacific Islanders) in the United States are preferred.
